Terms and Conditions

All Wake Forest Law merit scholarships are subject to the following terms and conditions:

- The recipient student must remain in good academic standing. Student Handbook, Section 2, Academic Eligibility, http://studentlife.law.wfu.edu/handbook/.

- The School of Law reserves the right to revoke or reduce any merit scholarship awarded to a student who violates the student code of conduct, honor code, or other University policies related to student conduct. Student Handbook, Section 7, Student Code of Conduct, http://studentlife.law.wfu.edu/handbook/.

- The scholarship will be applied in six equal payments to fall and spring semesters for up to three years. Scholarship awards are not available for study abroad, summer or intersession courses, externships, or other credits earned during the summer academic sessions. Recipient students completing their course of study in less than six semesters will forfeit any unused award.

- If the recipient student pursues a joint or concurrent degree, the total amount of the scholarship will be reduced for hours awarded outside of the law program.

- Student recipients of University scholarships, by accepting the awards, agree to allow the University to release their directory information to the donor individuals and organizations. The University’s definition of directory information can be found at https://registrar.wfu.edu/academic-records/privacy/.

- Student recipients of named scholarships may be required to write a thank you note to the donor as a condition for renewal and may be encouraged to participate in student recruitment activities such as admitted student days and admitted student contact.
